Dear Mr Smith

I am writing to say how pleased I am that you have received an exceptional grade at your most recent inspection.

The exceptional grade is designed to identify the very best educational practice that exists within England. To receive this grade, practice needs to not only be of the highest standard but sustained over time and have a transformational impact, especially for those who face barriers to their learning. I would therefore like to commend you and your team on your excellent work. You should be very proud of what has been achieved.

I trust you will take this opportunity to share your learning and best practice with others locally and nationally to support system-wide improvement.

I wish you continued success in the months and years ahead.

Yours sincerely

Sir Martyn Oliver
His Majesty's Chief Inspector
